CAREER EXPLORATION
JIC contains books and other materials that describe hundreds of careers along with salary information, employment outlook, and education/training requirements.

RESUMES/COVER LETTERS
JIC has a wide variety of books to help with resume and cover letter preparation. There are also materials to assist with the interview process, networking and salary negotiation.

EDUCATIONAL PLANNING
JIC has a diverse collection of directories for choosing post-secondary educational opportunities that describe two-year and four-year colleges and universities, along with graduate programs, career and vocational schools and online learning.

The Adult Education Notebook contains brochures from local school districts, towns and other organizations that offer non-credit adult education courses.

Scholarship and financial aid guides and indexes are available along with brochures from the Federal and New York State governments describing various student grants and loans.

TEST PREPARATION MATERIALS
Study guides are available for TASC (New York State High School Equivalency), TABE, civil service, aptitude, armed forces, professional licensing, college entrance, and graduate and professional school admission tests.
JOB SEARCHING

LOCAL INFORMATION
Classified advertisements from the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle Sunday newspaper along with the Monroe County DHS Weekly Employment Bulletin, monthly schedules of workshops from the Rochester Works Career Center and announcements of New York State apprenticeship opportunities are posted. The Jobs Notebook contains classified ads from City Newspaper and other local publications as well as postings from some local colleges and nonprofit organizations. JIC does not receive job postings from for-profit companies.

CIVIL SERVICE
Announcements of upcoming City of Rochester, Monroe County and New York State examinations are posted. Test preparation materials are available for a three week non-renewable loan period.

ONLINE JOB SEARCHING
 Websites of interest to local job seekers along with national employment resources are linked on the MCLS website. Go to www.libraryweb.org and under Adults, click on Job Information. For local job listings, click on Local Employment Resources. Instructions on how to use several of the sites listed are available.

Resources to Develop a Potential Employers List

- The Rochester Business Journal’s, The Lists
  (a paperback publication)
  Available at the Central Library’s Business & Social Sciences Division and other libraries, The Lists ranks and provides information about local companies within categories such as Woman-Owned Businesses, Million-Dollar Non-Profits, Engineering Firms, etc.

- Rochester’s Annual List of the Top 100 Privately-Held Companies (ranked by revenue growth)
  Find the 2013 Top 100 list in the Democrat and Chronicle newspaper’s Rocdocs databases at http://rocdocs.democratandchronicle.com. Select “Any” in the CATEGORY BOX. Then type top 100 in the TEXT SEARCH box.

- AtoZ database
  Now available online from the Monroe County Library System’s website, www.libraryweb.org and in libraries. This database can be used to make a list of prospective employers using search criteria such as business location, type of business, size, and more. A mapping feature allows for plotting businesses within a user-defined area or locating identified companies on a map. See the box below for help in accessing the database.

- The New York State Business Directory Database
  http://www.labor.ny.gov/stats/bdirector.shtml
  Makes a customized list of prospective employers with contact information by location, industry and occupation.

- Business Directories (books)
  Specialized business directories are available at the Central Library’s Business & Social Sciences Division, including manufacturers’ directories for all states and the Dun & Bradstreet Regional Business Directory.

Directories give a brief description of the business including names of key individuals. Sometimes, information about small, privately-held businesses can only be found in a directory, if at all.

Accessing Library Databases

Have your Monroe County Library System library card handy to input your barcode number to open the database. Go to www.libraryweb.org and click on Magazines and Databases. Scroll down the list to find the database you want to search.

- Magazine and Journal Articles
  Look for magazine and journal articles about a company or industry. Library card holders can read the full text of thousands of articles at home using the databases posted on the Monroe County Library System website: www.libraryweb.org.

Databases available include the Business Insights: Essentials, Gale Custom Newspapers (New York State Newspapers), and Gannett Newsstand, as well as other more general or specialized databases. From right hand side of the home page, click on Magazines & Databases, then choose a database to begin searching. Use the default “subject search” or choose “advanced search” to try keywords. Ask a librarian for help getting started or to suggest possible search strategies.

See the box below for help in accessing the databases.

The Central Library has subscriptions to ABI/INFORM and Hoover’s Company Profiles which provide full text articles from many business resources. The Democrat and Chronicle is part of the Gannett Newsstand database with articles back to 1999.

The Rochester Business Journal is the Greater Rochester area’s weekly business newspaper. It often has in-depth articles on local companies. Articles can be viewed free after completing a free site registration on the RBJ website at www.rbj.net. Search the article archives in the upper right side of the homepage. The Business & Social Sciences Division at the Central Library and some town libraries have print and online subscriptions to the RBJ.

- Membership in local professional or trade associations for job opening tips and leads
  Ask a librarian for help to locate a local chapter of a trade or professional association.

- Volunteering for a nonprofit agency to get a “foot in the door” and explore careers

Ask a librarian about other resources the library has that might help locate more information about companies or industries.

HOW TO ACCESS AND USE THE NEW YORK STATE JOBS EXPRESS

Go to the Monroe County Library System homepage (www.libraryweb.org) and hit Enter.

Using the drop-down menu under Adults, click on Job Information.

Click on Local Employment Resources.

Under Employment Websites, click on New York State Jobs Express

Then follow these steps:

1. Click on Finger Lakes Region.
2. This will reveal two categories. “Vacancies In This Region” contains occupational categories and the number of positions that are posted in each. “Companies With The Most Jobs In This Region” shows how many positions there are open at each company listed with links that will take you directly to the company employment pages.
3. Under “Vacancies In This Region” click on an occupational category.
4. A “Search NYS Job Bank” box will appear. The “City or Zip” box defaults to 14602, which will work fine for Rochester. You may change the zip code if you wish. The “Radius” box defaults to within 50 miles. It is recommended to use the drop-down menu to lower the radius to 25 miles. Then click on the Search box.
5. A list of job openings will appear. Just above the list to the right you will see “Sort by: Relevance | Date”. Click on Date to re-sort the list so that the most recently posted job openings will appear first.
6. Click on a job title that interests you to obtain a summary and description of the job and application information. Sometimes clicking on a job title will take you directly to the company’s online application page. Please note that many job postings will often involve filling out an online application. In these instances, you will need to have an e-mail account and your work history and education or a résumé saved on a flash drive.
7. Once you are done looking at a job opening, click on the X in the upper right hand corner of the screen to get back to your list. If you wish to look at other occupational categories click on the X again to get back to the “Vacancies In This Region” screen.
8. It is also possible to do a keyword search. From the “Vacancies In This Region” screen, in the upper left corner under “Find a Job” click on “Job Bank”. Click in the box under “Keywords” to enter a keyword or words, and then click in the “Cities” box and type in Rochester. You may also truncate your keyword by using the . For example, a keyword search of assemb will bring up job openings that have either assembly or assembler as part of the job title or description.
HOW TO ACCESS AND USE THE JOB CONNECTION

Go to the Monroe County Library System homepage (www.libraryweb.org) and hit Enter.

Using the drop-down menu under Adults, click on Job Information

Click on Local Employment Resources

Under Employment Websites, click on The Job Connection

There are a number of ways to use this site. One is to click on Job Target, which is searching by occupational category. Click on the blue arrow next to a category to open the list of jobs. The job listings are sorted alphabetically by title. You can also see the job status (full or part time), the employer advertising the job, and the date that each job was posted. Most jobs are posted for one month, so using this method may result in looking at openings that could be a few weeks old.

To look at the most recent job openings, click on Date and search all job openings posted from the most recent date on back regardless of the type of job. Click on the blue arrow next to each date to open the list of jobs. The list is sorted alphabetically by title. You can also see the job status (full or part time) and the employer advertising the job.

HOW TO ACCESS AND USE THE NEW YORK STATE JOB EXCHANGE

Go to the Monroe County Library System homepage (www.libraryweb.org) and hit Enter.

Using the drop-down menu under Adults, click on Job Information.

Click on Local Employment Resources.

Under Employment Websites, click on New York State Job Exchange (NYSJE)

On the upper left hand side are two boxes labeled WHAT and WHERE. The WHERE box will already have New York in it.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WHAT</th>
<th>WHERE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Keyword or Title</td>
<td>New York</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

State or City or Zip

FIND JOBS  Advanced Search >>

Click in the WHAT box to enter job keywords or title (i.e. customer service, warehouse, administrative assistant, machinist, etc.). Click in the WHERE box to delete New York and type in Rochester, NY. Then click on the blue FIND JOBS button or hit Enter.

A list of job openings will appear sorted by relevance. At the top of the job listings you can click on DATE next to SORT BY to re-sort the job openings by the most recent postings, but this feature does not work completely. You will still need to scroll down the list of openings to find all the most recent openings. You can target your job search more precisely by date, proximity to Rochester, and full or part time by doing an Advanced Search.

Advanced Search (this is the preferred method for using this site):

1. Before entering any search terms, click on the Advanced Search link next to the FIND JOBS button.
2. In the Keywords box enter your job keywords or title.
3. In the location box type Rochester NY.
4. Use the drop down menu in the Within box to select how many miles from Rochester you are willing to travel. Within 25 miles is a recommended radius.
5. Use the drop down menu in the Added or Updated box to select a time frame that the jobs were posted. You can select anytime from Within Last Day to Within Last 60 Days. Usually choosing Within Last 7 Days or Last 14 Days will work well.
6. The Job Type box defaults to Full-time, Regular. Use the drop down menu to change to Part-time if you wish.

You can also choose Education Level, Experience Level, and Salary Range. However, leaving these blank will increase your job search results.
The Legal Action Center in New York City “is the only non-profit law and policy organization in the United States whose sole mission is to fight discrimination against people with histories of addiction, HIV/AIDS, or criminal records and to advocate for sound public policies in these areas.”

If you wish to have copies of these publications, you can download them to a flash drive or print them out from the Legal Action Center website. (See directions below.)

There is also an online video titled Your Rights, Your Future: Preparing For Reentry that provides useful information.

DIRECTIONS FOR LOCATING THE LEGAL ACTION CENTER PUBLICATIONS ON THE INTERNET

1. On the Internet, go to the Legal Action Center website (www.lac.org)
2. Scroll down and click on Resources, then click on Criminal Justice.
3. A series of boxes will appear; for example Employment & Education, Certificates of Relief, etc. Click on a box that interests you, then click on Publications.
4. Click on the title of a publication that you wish to view.
5. When the document appears on the screen, if you wish to save the document, click on the Save a Copy icon at the bottom of the screen and complete the process to save it on your flash drive.
6. If you wish to print the document, click on the Print File icon and complete the process to print.
