Historical Note

The Photographic Heritage Association/Photo Archives Belong in Rochester (PHA/PABIR), a grassroots citizen's action committee, was organized several days after the vote by the George Eastman House International Museum of Photography (GEH/IMP) to offer its 500,000-photographic item collection to the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of American History due to a continuing budget deficit. The PHA/PABIR wrote their draft charter in February 1985 and received not-for-profit incorporation on April 22, 1985. Their by-laws were approved March 15, 1986. The organization consisted of a Steering Committee (later renamed the Board of Directors) of 12 members and a larger group of concerned citizens. Their goal was to keep the photographic collections in Rochester. To achieve this, they initiated a letter-writing campaign, studied alternative sites, and searched for financial sponsors for a building to house the collection which they included in a proposal to the GEH/IMP board. By August 1992, after the GEH/IMP found the funding to keep the collection in Rochester and construct a new building to house it, the PHA/PABIR was no longer necessary and ceased to exist.

Scope and Content Note

The Photographic Heritage Association/Photo Archives Belong in Rochester (PHA/PABIR) collection consists of records collected by board members. The records document both the PABIR's efforts to organize, fundraise, and finance their organization as well as raise public awareness of the GEH/IMP photo archive crisis through letter writing, proposal writing, research of alternative sites, and press releases and articles in media publications. The records range from 1947-1993. The bulk of the records are from 1984-1992, the active period of the PHA/PABIR organization. The articles in Series 7 provide a complete picture of the unfolding issues and problems of the George Eastman House photo archive crisis in Rochester and the players and steps taken to address it.

Arrangement

The collection has been divided into seven series: Series 1: Administrative Records; Series 2: Resource Files; Series 3: Correspondence; Series 4: Grants and Fundraising; Series 5: Finances; Series 6: George Eastman House/International Museum of Photography Photo Archive; Series 7: Publications.
