Reproduction Policy

In order to preserve the unique and in many cases, rare, materials held in the Local History & Genealogy Division, reproduction of materials is at the discretion of the Local History librarian. While the library attempts to accommodate the research and publication needs of our patrons, limitations may apply in order to preserve damaged or fragile items. Photocopies and other reproductions are solely for the purposes of private study and scholarly research and are not to be further reproduced in part or in full, or made available to others.

Copyright
Many items in the Local History Division’s collections are in the public domain. To assist patrons who are unsure of copyright limitations, the Local History & Genealogy Division makes information about copyright available at the reference desk. DETERMINING THE EXISTENCE OF COPYRIGHT OR ANY OTHER LEGAL RESTRICTIONS, AS WELL AS OBTAINING PERMISSION FROM THE COPYRIGHT HOLDER, IS SOLELY THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE PATRON.

The Copyright Law (United States Code, Title 17) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified by law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a reproduction [including that made by electronic transmission] for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

Photocopying
Photocopying within the Local History & Genealogy Division costs $0.20 per copy and is black-and-white only. Patrons should see the librarian before attempting to copy ANY material. Patrons consulting items from the division’s Special Collections are required to ask the librarian to perform any needed photocopying, at the patron’s expense.

Patrons may generally photocopy materials from the division WITH THE FOLLOWING EXCEPTIONS:

- City and Suburban directories
- Telephone books
- Any monograph published more than 75 years ago (prior to 1939)
- Publications with tight binding
- Census indexes
- Newspaper indexes
- Maps
- Cemetery records or probate records
- Scrapbooks
- ANY rebound books regardless of age
- ANY fragile item regardless of age
- Whole works

Camera Use
As a convenience to researchers and to reduce the handling of fragile materials, personal cameras may be used to make copies of materials under certain circumstances, and for personal or noncommercial use only. Flash use is permitted.

The library will deny requests to use a personal camera if such use may result in damage to materials, if the materials have already been digitized, or for other reasons in its sole discretion.

Patrons must adhere to the following conditions:

- Materials must remain flat on the desk.
- Readers may not push on bindings, stand on tables/chairs, or hold up materials in order to obtain a better quality picture.
- All materials must be handled carefully in a manner that will not damage them.
- Materials must be kept in the order in which they appear in folders and/or boxes.
- Photography of any items from the photograph collection (RPF1/RPF2) is prohibited.
- The patron accepts full responsibility for determining whether or not U.S. copyright law protects the materials being copied and whether or not his or her use exceeds the limits of fair use.
- Library staff reserves the right to prohibit the photographing of any of its collections.

Scanner Use
Use of scanning equipment by patrons is prohibited. Patrons wishing to have items scanned must fill out the appropriate Scan Request Form and pay the required fee. Scans are available in hard copy or as digital files. This is not an on-demand service.

Reproduction Permissions
Obtaining permission to reproduce images from the Local History Division collections in any format requires a written request. The request should include details of the intended use of the image(s). Credit must be clearly visible and adjacent to the image. Credit should include any specific information about the collection, creator, and date. For any use, the credit line should also include: “From the collection of the Rochester Public Library Local History Division.”
